

SMART HOME LIVING

Premium, Smart Home Systems Personalized for the way you Live

SAVANT ECOSYSTEM

Savant was founded in 2005 by telecommunications pioneer and visionary, Robert Madonna with the goal of providing the best experience in home automation. When the Savant team considered what the ideal smart home would be, the one common thread was comfort: that feeling when everything in your home is just how you like it. Legacy control systems established new conveniences yet offered no path for personalization without never-ending & expensive labor bills. Savant set out to change this and in 2014 launched the first Smart Home user interface that could be personalized.

The Savant ecosystem creates a home unlike any other by first respecting that each Savant user is unique and deserving of an experience all their own. Each member of the family is treated as an individual and granted their own User profile; Each 'User' can personalize their Savant user Interface; Each 'User' can make their own favorite channels, buttons and more.

On top of UI advancements, Savant is pioneering new ground in lighting control, energy automation & distributed entertainment, offering both a Hi-Res IP-Audio and lossless 4K IP Video distribution systems. With tens of thousands of Savant Homes completed, scores of industry awards and accolades and numerous patents, people from around the world have come to Savant in search of a smart home tailored just for them.
